Research paper:

Skill development for sustainable growth of hospitality and tourism industry in India.

Introduction:

What is skill development?

Skill development is calculative from of (five P) process, profession, procedure, passion product.

It is the process of aiming new objectives with the proper developing training, solving problems, and gaining a new knowledge of professional skills. For example.

Why skill development is important?

As per discussed earlier skill development is an integral part of human beings, and if a person starts do developing his /her skill development they starts development of themselves only likewise it starts with the process and ends with a very successful and good human being. Earlier it has been seen that those who has good skill will survive easily in this big world.it teaches you technically, physically, theoretically and professionally.

About hospitality industry:

Hospitality is the industry where skill, knowledge and physical strength works together, while talking about hospitality food, service accommodation and all necessities which is important for hotel or hospitality is very important & this work will done with the help of creativity and skills, in hospitality starting from reservation of guest booking, food making to cleaning of room needs skills of professional way.

About tourism industry:

Tourism plays major part to generate revenue & development of the country.in this industry major transportation, service hospitality industry plays vital role. With the help of skill development program tourism through colleges, institutes or experiences the students or employee gets development in human nature and also develops the productivity and knowledge is also gaining while taking skillful training.

Methodology:

The research study is based on nature basics and secondary information is taken, read, understands and key points is studied by media, articles, papers, related books, related documents website of different related and similar of work for skill development in the Nation.

How skill development hospitality & tourism industry will help in sustain human being?

Skills are very necessary now a days either it belongs to service industry or any technical or non-technical industries. Once the skill developed it will teaches team work to the employee. With the having skills in hand employee or worker will work with strategy and with new creativity produce by themselves by own.it also help to build network and profession relation between organization.

Once the skills development program or training is completed, employee or the person will look change in him/ herself, as he or she is proper trained, well behaved maker employee that program will improve technical, productive knowledge of that product.it also helps to build self-confidence, positive attitude towards work.

Suggestion and recommendations:

As per the skills matters it shown that people who already got skilled knowledge work better than any other organization, and if the humans have only skills they will survived easily in hospitality industry& tourism industry. Both of the industry is coordinated with each other and entire skills which is most important aspect of running the hospitality and tourism. Once some on is well educated and obtain good knowledge and skill from industry he or she will easily survived in the world. In our world every stem, firm and carrier skills are very important.as even man made machine also requires the proper training. And that training needs execution which take a place while we start working, in every examples, skills are mentioned that doesn't mean only technical training or theoretical training is only important but the things is very important is the word skill, it either any skill which humans have for e.g. : coconut seller has skills to peel of the coconut and sell coconut .that also comes in a big skill work.

Conclusion:

Professional knowledge of skill development in the industry of hotel tourism programs have to be developed by each state and entire country. Because in basic human needs food & shelter is there and in this both industries skills are very much important, it will expands when the sources are their like institute's, colleges, or online programme has to develop by each country.
